

GN (1/2)
RACIALISM IS PATRIOTISM

CHOICE

IT'S OUR FIGHT
DON'T EVER GIVE UP

ISSUE No. 32

JUNE 1998

TONY BLAIR'S SUICIDE NOTE

FOR all the Union Jack flag-waving engaged in by the Labour Party during the last general election, it is clear that the victorious 'New Labour' government is just as committed to the destruction of Britain's Anglo-Saxon-Celtic ethnic unity, cultural identity and national sovereignty as was 'Old Labour'.

Evidence of this was seen in the support which Prime Minister Tony Blair has given to a 'Commission on the Future of Multi-Ethnic Britain'.

The 'Commission' was recently set up by the Runnymede Trust, which describes itself as "an independent charity concerned with issues of racial injustice and equality".

In a foreword to the prospectus of the self-appointed 'Commission', Mr. Blair wrote:

"Britain is changing fast: old patterns are being replaced by new diversity and it is vital that we modernise our institutions to reflect this changing reality."

"I believe passionately that we can build a nation which respects diversity and provides social cohesion. The work of the Commission is at the heart of this task."

"Everyone has a stake in the future so I would like to encourage groups and individuals to contribute with the experience and ideas to create a fair and open Multi-Ethnic Britain."

If the British people and nation should ever cease to exist as a result of genocide through race-mixing, that trite, cliché-ridden little message will be seen by historians as this nation's suicide note.

Consider the meaning of the phrase "old patterns are being replaced by new diversity".

At first sight it seems to be nothing more than vacuous hyperbole of the type that Peter Sellers lampooned in The All-Purpose Party Political Speech. ["Grasp, with both hands, I beseech

Blair must be asked to give an example of where ethnic diversity and social cohesion have ever existed or do exist on this planet.

"New diversity" also is a coded reference to the fact that these aliens are now present in our land in such vast numbers that they are flexing their muscles in a variety of ways which range from major riots and agitation to electoral blackmail and the financial 'patronage' of political parties.

The establishment of this 'Commission' is yet one more example of this muscle-flexing process.

But putting to one side our analysis of the particular points in Mr. Blair's foreword, our main objection to what he had to say — our fundamental objection to all the works and pomps of the multi-racialist lobby and the race relations industry is this:

We were never asked.

At no point during the build-up of mass Coloured Immigration were we, the indigenous British people, ever asked by any government if we wished to have our homeland converted into a multi-racial society.

WE WERE NEVER ASKED

Neither of the two political parties who have been governing this country for the past 52 years ever went into a general election on the basis that they intended to make Britain a mixed-race state — nor have we ever been consulted on such a matter by means of a referendum.

Moreover, not only have the electorate been ignored by successive governments, so too has Parliament. All Prime Ministers, Labour and Conservative, have acted to suppress debate and questioning about what was being foisted on the British people by stealth and duplicity.

We are now presented with a fait accompli. Ad-

CLOCKWORK SMILE in over-drive.
Tony Blair's message to the Runnymede Trust is that the British people must be made to accept self-inflicted genocide through race-mixing.

about identity and culture and how we reshape the nation — are matters of intense interest to the whole nation . . ."

How kind of Mr. Phillips to acknowledge that the way in which he and his equally alien cronies plan to "reshape" our nation to be more congenial to himself and them is "of intense interest" to those whose ancestral home this is and whose heritage is being destroyed.

Blair, Phillips & Co. talk of Britain as if it were a new country that has to be "shaped". Britain is not a young country, but a very old one. So they are asking us to behave as if the past never happened — except, of course, in the cases of slavery, colonialism and other topics deployed for the infliction of 'White Guilt' propaganda!

If forced to admit the past, these people might care to explain how we gave the world the jet engine, the television, the hovercraft, the steam engine, penicillin — to name but a few — without the 'benefit' of multi-ethnic diversity?

Runnymede Trust, which describes itself as "an independent charity concerned with issues of racial injustice and equality".

In a foreword to the prospectus of the self-appointed 'Commission', Mr. Blair wrote:

"Britain is changing fast: old patterns are being replaced by new diversity and it is vital that we modernise our institutions to reflect this changing reality."

"I believe passionately that we can build a nation which respects diversity and provides social cohesion. The work of the Commission is at the heart of this task."

"Everyone has a stake in the future so I would like to encourage groups and individuals to contribute with the experience and ideas to create a fair and open Multi-Ethnic Britain."

If the British people and nation should ever cease to exist as a result of genocide through race-mixing, that trite, cliché-ridden little message will be seen by historians as this nation's suicide note.

Consider the meaning of the phrase "old patterns are being replaced by new diversity".

At first sight it seems to be nothing more than vacuous hyperbole of the type that Peter Sellers lampooned in The All-Purpose Party Political Speech. ["Grasp, with both hands, I beseech you . . ."]

But what are these "old patterns" to which he refers so casually? Some unimportant anachronistic scrap of cultural litter to be confined to the dustbin?

No. What he dismisses so lightly are a thousand years of history, of nation-building, of creativity in every field of human endeavour by a racially homogeneous folk whose achievements, generation after generation, have shaped the world to an extent that has never been surpassed.

ETHNIC CONTINUITY

This creativity could continue into the future, but the sole prerequisite for it is ethnic continuity: the continued existence of the people whose ancestors consistently achieved so much in the past.

And what does he mean by "new diversity"?

The flooding of our island home since WW2 with millions of racially alien and culturally unassimilable people who are uncomfortable with or downright antagonistic to the very concept of the British nation and culture and who are resentful of our history as it stands in comparison with their own.

Amazingly, Blair talks of "diversity" and "social cohesion" as if they were one and the same thing.

For a nation to exist the people must have a common history, a common identity and a shared vision of the future. Without these we simply have a series of competing and conflicting interests.

but putting to one side our analysis of the particular points in Mr. Blair's foreword, our main objection to what he had to say — our fundamental objection to all the works and poms of the multi-racialist lobby and the race relations industry is this:

We were never asked.

At no point during the build-up of mass Coloured Immigration were we, the indigenous British people, ever asked by any government if we wished to have our homeland converted into a multi-racial society.

WE WERE NEVER ASKED

Neither of the two political parties who have been governing this country for the past 52 years ever went into a general election on the basis that they intended to make Britain a mixed-race state — nor have we ever been consulted on such a matter by means of a referendum.

Moreover, not only have the electorate been ignored by successive governments, so too has Parliament. All Prime Ministers, Labour and Conservative, have acted to suppress debate and questioning about what was being foisted on the British people by stealth and duplicity.

We are now presented with a fait accompli. Adding insult to injury, we are not even politely invited to resign ourselves to this most monstrous demographic change.

Oh no. In the strident tone of all tyrannies down the ages, we are told that we must accept it and, if we demur too stridently, we face prosecution and imprisonment.

That is certainly one way in which an "old pattern" — i.e. the democratic process of obtaining a mandate — has been changed under the new multi-racial dispensation.

Clearly, the construction of a multi-racial society has no democratic legitimacy and, hence, all of the various legal and institutional structures which have been erected to buttress it are likewise illegitimate and tyrannous outrages.

Blair talks of "a fair and open Multi-Ethnic Britain" but the frequently revised, ever more draconian race relations legislation mitigates against open-ness and brazenly flouts traditional notions of fairness.

Section 19 of the Public Order Act as Amended by the Race Relations Act provides for the finding of 'guilt' and the imposition of terms of imprisonment, not only without the need for the Crown to prove intent on the part of the accused to "incite racial hatred" — but even in the face of the proven absence of any such intent!

A second foreword to the 'Commission' prospectus was written by the 'Chair' of the Runnymede Trust, the Black broadcaster Trevor Phillips. In it he declares:

"The questions that we are trying to answer —

CLOCKWORK SMILE in over-drive.

Tony Blair's message to the Runnymede Trust is that the British people must be made to accept self-inflicted genocide through race-mixing.

about identity and culture and how we reshape the nation — are matters of intense interest to the whole nation . . ."

How kind of Mr. Phillips to acknowledge that the way in which he and his equally alien cronies plan to "reshape" our nation to be more congenial to himself and them is "of intense interest" to those whose ancestral home this is and whose heritage is being destroyed.

Blair, Phillips & Co. talk of Britain as if it were a new country that has to be "shaped". Britain is not a young country, but a very old one. So they are asking us to behave as if the past never happened — except, of course, in the cases of slavery, colonialism and other topics deployed for the infliction of 'White Guilt' propaganda!

If forced to admit the past, these people might care to explain how we gave the world the jet engine, the television, the hovercraft, the steam engine, penicillin — to name but a few — without the 'benefit' of multi-ethnic diversity?

Do the paintings of Turner, Gainsborough, Stubbs, Reynolds, and a host of others pale into mediocrity when placed alongside Nigerian rain masks and Polynesian facial tattoos?

The prospectus to which Blair and Phillips have lent their names invites "organisations and individuals" to submit evidence to the 'Commission'. We hope that readers of Choice will elect to do this.

The Runnymede Trust constantly asserts that it is in the business of highlighting injustices being inflicted on ethnic groups. Hence representations from Choice should be based on:

1. The injustice to the ethnic British people of having a multi-racial society inflicted on them without their permission ever having been sought or given at any time, and in the face of their sustained, if sometimes muted, majority opposition ever since.

2. The injustice of the destruction of the British race, nation and culture which multi-racialism is bringing about. This is a genocidal process since Britons are being denied the fundamental human right to survive as a distinct ethnic group in their own ancestral homeland.

Representations should be made in a calm but forthright manner, and be addressed to:

Helen Seaford,

Director,

The Commission for the Future

of Multi-Ethnic Britain,

PO Box 18002

London EC1A 4JA.

CHOICE

EDITOR & PUBLISHER:
The Dowager Lady Birdwood

ASSISTANT EDITOR:
Martin Webster

EDITORIAL OFFICE:
31 Eastvale, Second Avenue
Acton Vale, London W3 7RU.
Telephone: 0181-749 0629

EDITORIAL

WE would like always to bring readers nothing but good news. In fact in this issue we bring you a special page devoted entirely to 'Good News'. But because of . . .

- Fifty years of unrelenting Coloured Immigration;
- Relentless efforts by the Establishment to try and make the multi-racial society work without the electorate ever having been asked to give a mandate for its imposition;
- The remorseless development of the Zionist 'New World Order' and World Government through entities such as the United Nations, the European Union, the World Bank, the International Monetary Fund and monopolistic multi-national corporations; . . . and, perhaps most important of all:
- The failure of the traditional leadership echelons of our nation to give the desperate British people a lead in opposing these grave evils;

. . . we regret that there is much bad news to report. It must be faced.

Some people, of course, throw up their hands in despair when confronted with bad news. Such people use bad news as an excuse for doing what they have always done, that is: NOTHING.

We, however, believe that a proper understanding of the news is the sole basis for a fight-back. So we not only convey the bare facts of news — good and bad — but help readers make sense of it. We try to explain not merely what is going on, but why.

The enemies of our nation advance various ideas to justify their actions. These ideas are promoted as if they were Holy Writ, criticism of which would be akin to blasphemy.

STRAW'S 'ONE-OFF' AMNESTY TO 10,000 BOGUS ASYLUM-SEEKERS

SECRET government papers leaked to the Daily Telegraph early in May reveal that the Home Office has been carrying out a clandestine policy of allowing thousands of ineligible 'asylum-seekers' to settle in Britain where their applications and appeals have been allowed to drag on for more than seven years.

The papers indicated that the pretext for the practice, entitled "The Seven Year Policy", was "fear of encouraging large numbers of refugees to string-out endless appeals so that they could win leave to stay".

Under its provisions it dictated that any applicant had the right to be considered for "exceptional leave to remain permanently in the UK if their case for asylum status was not resolved within seven years".

This policy was applied even in cases where the application did not meet the criteria for asylum status.

The leaked official document was a report prepared earlier this year for Mike O'Brien, Home Office immigration minister, by a senior official of the Home Office Asylum Directorate. It stated that the policy was "long-standing, which had never before been acknowledged publicly".

So much for the assurances given by the Conservatives during their 18 year period in office that they followed "firm but fair" immigration policies. It is now clear that their policy was lax — and desperately unfair to the native British population, whose birthright was being stolen behind a cloud of lies.

Since the new Labour administration has been following the policies of the last Conservative government in almost every crucial area, we can expect this cynical 'immigration control' betrayal to continue in similar style.

The Labour government has not denied that in order to clear up the back-log of 'asylum' applications it has been decided to grant amnesty to more than 10,000 bogus 'refugees' who — thanks to the machinations of lawyers specialising in immigration cases — have been able to spin out their appeals for seven years.

The Observer, which enjoys a very close relationship with the Labour government, has reported the decision is a fact — and specified that the time period has been reduced to five years "in an attempt to clear the huge backlog".

It is probable that the secret government papers

Friday 1974 when Labour Home Secretary Roy Jenkins promulgated a "one-off" amnesty to illegal immigrants.

The timing of that announcement was crucial since in those days, newspapers did not appear over Easter Bank Holiday weekend, hence public awareness of and debate about the decision was substantially stifled.

That cynical ploy prompted an anti-immigration protest march through London two months later (15th June, 1974) and the "Battle of Red Lion Square" in which a student was killed during a Marxist mob attack on the Police.

Today's Labour government is more sophisticated — and so it conveyed its news via a leak to the press, couched in terms which would direct public anger at the Tories — who are no longer in office. That is what's known as "news management".

In a bid to put a sugar-coating on the bitter pill of another "one-off" Labour amnesty to illegal immigrants, Home Secretary Jack Straw issued an official statement (simultaneous with the unofficial leak) stating:

"I am determined to criminalise action against foreigners seeking to dodge immigration rules by pressing the Police to charge them with entering the country illegally".

CHOICE says: Jack Straw's statement is couched in terms which smack of prevarication. What's all this about him "pressing the Police"? Residents upset by a neighbour's noisy parties engage in "pressing the Police" activity. He is a senior Crown Minister.

Either he has statutory powers to instruct the Police to do what is necessary, or he has not. If he has no such powers, then he should announce immediate plans to secure the necessary emergency legislation.

If he has the powers, but the Police do not have the financial resources to implement his instructions, then he should go to Parliament and secure the necessary extra cash.

In a bid to justify the latest amnesty, Straw's deputy, Michael O'Brien, has said that if the deportation of all illegal 'over-stayers' were to be implemented, 275 jumbo jet flights would be required, suggesting that the logistics of any such an operation would present insuperable problems.

What nonsense! He should study the fantastic

... The remorseless development of the Zionist 'New World Order' and World Government through entities such as the United Nations, the European Union, the World Bank, the International Monetary Fund and monopolistic multi-national corporations; ... and, perhaps most important of all:

- The failure of the traditional leadership echelons of our nation to give the desperate British people a lead in opposing these grave evils;

... we regret that there is much bad news to report. It must be faced.

Some people, of course, throw up their hands in despair when confronted with bad news. Such people use bad news as an excuse for doing what they have always done, that is: NOTHING.

We, however, believe that a proper understanding of the news is the sole basis for a fight-back. So we not only convey the bare facts of news — good and bad — but help readers make sense of it. We try to explain not merely what is going on, but why.

The enemies of our nation advance various ideas to justify their actions. These ideas are promoted as if they were Holy Writ, criticism of which would be akin to blasphemy.

We are not intimidated by the pompous posturings of the self-appointed 'politically correct'. We subject their ideas to examination, explode them, and advance better ideas.

If you value Choice, please pass it on to friend and foe alike, so that it may thrive on the exchange of views and achieve a growing number of new readers and patrons.

THANK YOU, READERS

I WISH to express my thanks to all those friends and supporters who sent me cards at Christmas and Easter time and on St. Georges Day. Your kind and encouraging messages were very much appreciated. I am hugely grateful to you all.

Sincerely,
JANE BIRDWOOD

SATIRE

SATIRE died the day they gave Henry Kissinger the Nobel Peace Prize. There were no jokes left after that."

— Tom Lehrer,
satirical song-writer and
"self-declared Jewish atheist"
Daily Telegraph 28-4-98.

of the Home Office Asylum Directorate. It stated that the policy was "long-standing, which had never before been acknowledged publicly".

So much for the assurances given by the Conservatives during their 18 year period in office that they followed "firm but fair" immigration policies. It is now clear that their policy was lax — and desperately unfair to the native British population, whose birthright was being stolen behind a cloud of lies.

Since the new Labour administration has been following the policies of the last Conservative government in almost every crucial area, we can expect this cynical 'immigration control' betrayal to continue in similar style.

The Labour government has not denied that in order to clear up the back-log of 'asylum' applications it has been decided to grant amnesty to more than 10,000 bogus 'refugees' who — thanks to the machinations of lawyers specialising in immigration cases — have been able to spin out their appeals for seven years.

The Observer, which enjoys a very close relationship with the Labour government, has reported the decision is a fact — and specified that the time period has been reduced to five years "in an attempt to clear the huge backlog".

It is probable that the secret government papers were leaked by the government itself in order to establish that it has inherited a situation created by the previous Conservative administration, and that it is now compelled to take an unprecedented "one-off" action.

Those who think this explanation too cynical to credit should cast their minds back to Good ficial leak) stating:

"I am determined to criminalise action against foreigners seeking to dodge immigration rules by pressing the Police to charge them with entering the country illegally".

CHOICE says: Jack Straw's statement is couched in terms which smack of prevarication. What's all this about him "pressing the Police"? Residents upset by a neighbour's noisy parties engage in "pressing the Police" activity. He is a senior Crown Minister.

Either he has statutory powers to instruct the Police to do what is necessary, or he has not. If he has no such powers, then he should announce immediate plans to secure the necessary emergency legislation.

If he has the powers, but the Police do not have the financial resources to implement his instructions, then he should go to Parliament and secure the necessary extra cash.

In a bid to justify the latest amnesty, Straw's deputy, Michael O'Brien, has said that if the deportation of all illegal 'over-stayers' were to be implemented, 275 jumbo jet flights would be required, suggesting that the logistics of any such an operation would present insuperable problems.

What nonsense! He should study the fantastic air-lift mounted by the RAF and the USAF to keep Berlin supplied 50 years ago when the city was blockaded by the Russians. A plane landed at Tempelhof airport every three minutes for months on end.

If its the cost of the repatriation flights he's worried about, we suggest he announces a public appeal. It would be over-subscribed within days.

LE PEN SLAMS "NEW WORLD ORDER" AND "INTERNATIONAL FINANCE"

MORE than 20,000 French patriots gathered at the Place de l'Opera in Paris on 1st May to hear Front National leader Jean-Marie le Pen give his annual Joan of Arc rally address. He used the occasion to denounce the impending imposition by the European Union of the 'euro' and Economic and Monetary Union.

The French leader, whose party commands the support of 15 per cent of the electorate, called on his compatriots to "stay faithful to the franc" and to "defend French national sovereignty against the threat posed by Europe and the Global Economy".

He urged the French to "defend their homeland, just as the companions of Joan did, 600 years ago, when the Establishment of the day tried to sell out France to foreigners".

British press reports of his speech suggested that M le Pen "singled out Brussels and America" as the principal threats to national identity when he declared:

"The new slavery today is the New World Order. International Finance is destroying nations and its prophets are CNN [a global TV 'news' service], the Washington Post and the Eurocracy in Brussels."

CHOICE says: It is not for us to put words into M le Pen's mouth, but we feel that his use of the expressions "Global Economy", "New World Order" and "International Finance" in juxtaposition with each other indicates his ultimate target, the ultimate enemy of free nations.

We are amazed that the media — usually so hypersensitive to the slightest hint of "anti-semitism" from this "extreme Right Wing" leader — were so unperceptive on this occasion. Were they being naïve or disingenuous?

All we can say is: Bravo M le Pen! We agree with all you say — and hint at! We wish somebody of your stature were available to say the like for our country.

E.U. 'ANTI-RACISM YEAR' ENDS IN FARCE

'EUROPEAN Year Against Racism' ended in farce on 19th December 1997 when the European Commission issued a report which announced that "racism" and "xenophobia" are alive and well throughout Europe, including Britain, where 32 per cent described themselves as "quite racist" or "very racist".

The 'Year Against Racism' was the brainchild of Europe's extensive network of Zionist organisations, not least the London-based Board of Deputies of British Jews.

Officially, they wanted to use the Year as a platform for promoting:

- Europe-wide laws to prohibit any utterance of "racist" opinion.
- A new law in Britain to criminalise any expression of scepticism about the Zionist version(s) of the 'Holocaust' story.

But they also had one additional unofficial objective:

- To soften-up European governments and public opinion to accept a new tranche of outrageous "Holocaust compensation" demands.

The survey interviewed 16,000 people across the EU's 15 member states. On average, only one in three of these stated that they felt they were "not at all racist".

Surprisingly, the survey found that Europe's top country for 'racism' — is Belgium with 55 per cent of respondents describing themselves as "very or quite racist". The French come second with 48 per cent (no surprise here), the Danes third with a very creditable 43 per cent and the Austrians fourth with 42 per cent. The European Union average was said to be 33 per cent.

Publication of these results was said to have "cast a shadow" over the closing conference of the 'Year Against Racism' held in Luxembourg.

Padraig Flynn, EU Commissioner for Social Affairs, expressed "extreme concern at these shocking statistics". He said that the survey "shows a worrying level of racism and xenophobia in member states".

Another survey which has caused dismay to Euro multi-racialists is one carried out by the Runnymede Trust among 505 young people who attended a conference staged by the Trust and the Commission for Racial Equality on 9th March.

This survey found that a majority of people in Britain aged under 25 do not feel European; neither know, nor care to know, very much about the European Union; and have little enthusiasm for a European single currency.

One youngster at the conference — Lorraine Cushnie, 18, from Witham, Essex — told an interviewer: "I think it's ridiculous that European laws can over-ride British laws. It's taken away a lot of our power."

Another — Ellen Lacy, 16, from Scarborough, Yorks — added: "I don't believe in European inte- gration and I just want the British to remain British."

Nick Hughes, 17, from Newmarket, Cambs, declared: "When I think about Europe I think about a lot of unwanted changes. A lot of people I know value the pound and sovereignty."

Multi-racialist internationalists got another slap in the face from British youngsters at the end of February when the Voluntary Service Overseas organisation (VSO) reported that there was a decline in numbers volunteering to join its schemes in the Third World.

Applications for places on VSO schemes have gone down by 22 per cent during the past two years despite a doubling of expenditure on advertising. Applications for people with specialised skills have dropped at rates ranging from 34 to 51 per cent.

The left wing broadcaster Jonathan Dimbleby, who is a member of the VSO Council, whined: "This shows a selfish attitude and ignorance of other societies".

CHOICE says: Unlike Jonathan Dimbleby, who inherited a chunk of the multi-million pound Dimbleby Newspaper Group, young people in Britain today face a struggle to obtain a decent education, secure a career and start a family. They cannot waste time playing amateur Doctor Schweitzers in Bongo-Bongo Land.

PUBLIC HOSTILITY TO 'EURO' IS INCREASING

PUBLIC opposition to British involvement with the 'euro' — the impending currency unit of the European Union — is increasing despite a frantic campaign to promote it as "inevitable".

The government's official position is that it proposes to "wait and see" how the single currency performs before deciding on British participation.

However, nobody doubts that Prime Minister Tony Blair and his Chancellor, Gordon Brown, are strongly in favour of British involvement.

A survey conducted at the start of April by the ICM polling organisation on behalf of the pro EU paper The Guardian shows that opposition to the introduction of the euro surged by 10 per cent to 61 per cent of the electorate.

Positive support for the euro has remained at

This is the GOOD NEWS PAGE

OUR TV TASTE IS "XENOPHOBIC"

GOOD news has emerged from a recent survey of the British public's taste in the matter of television programmes conducted by ratings analyst William Phillips in the March 1998 issue of the media magazine Television.

Despite a clearly concerted effort by all sections of the TV industry to use the medium to condition the public to become internationalist

EUROCRATS IN BRAWL OVER EUROBABBLE

EVER-deepening cracks are starting to disfigure the public face of unity which the Euro-Federalists try so desperately to project to the world.

Quite apart from the chaotic scenes of in-fighting, bribery and criteria-fudging which characterised the launching of the single European currency, the Eurocrats are now involved in a brawl over language.

At a time when the European Union (EU) is preparing to enlarge itself by admitting 11 new members, many of the 15 established members are worried their language may be 'demoted'.

At present 11 languages are officially recognised. Translation and interpretation services must be provided for each nation at all EU meetings.

At some meetings there are more translators than delegates. All this babble is minuted

"not at all racist".

Surprisingly, the survey found that Europe's top country for 'racism' — is Belgium with 55 per cent of respondents describing themselves as

PUBLIC HOSTILITY TO 'EURO' IS INCREASING

PUBLIC opposition to British involvement with the 'euro' — the impending currency unit of the European Union — is increasing despite a frantic campaign to promote it as "inevitable".

The government's official position is that it proposes to "wait and see" how the single currency performs before deciding on British participation.

However, nobody doubts that Prime Minister Tony Blair and his Chancellor, Gordon Brown, are strongly in favour of British involvement.

A survey conducted at the start of April by the ICM polling organisation on behalf of the pro EU paper The Guardian shows that opposition to the introduction of the euro surged by 10 per cent to 61 per cent of the electorate.

Positive support for the euro has remained at only 26 per cent of voters for the past three years. The boost to the anti-euro figure comes from people who were formerly undecided.

Guardian Home Affairs Editor Alan Travis commented:

"The surprising strength of those prepared to vote against the introduction of the European single currency underlines the scale of the task that faces Tony Blair and Gordon Brown..."

The ICM poll revealed that:

- Opponents of the euro are in the majority among supporters of all three major parliamentary parties.
- Women are more anti-euro (65 per cent) than men (56 per cent).
- The wealthiest people (the 'AB' social group) are least hostile to the euro, with 51 per cent against, while 72 per cent of skilled working class people (the 'C2' group) are against.

These findings are confirmed by a survey conducted recently by the Federation of Small Businesses. One of the federation's leading members, Donald A. Martin, stated in a letter published in the Daily Telegraph on 13th April:

"We have recently conducted a survey on attitudes to the single currency which drew nearly 4,000 responses... a substantial majority believe that joining a single currency will have either a negative or a neutral effect..."

"Let us be quite clear that the basic issue is political not economic. Don't fudge the political issue by trying to claim business support which is not present."

Another — Ellen Lacy, 16, from Scarborough, Yorks — added: "I don't believe in European inte-

This is the GOOD NEWS PAGE

OUR TV TASTE IS "XENOPHOBIC"

GOOD news has emerged from a recent survey of the British public's taste in the matter of television programmes conducted by ratings analyst William Phillips in the March 1998 issue of the media magazine Television.

Despite a clearly concerted effort by all sections of the TV industry to use the medium to condition the public to become internationalist and multi-racialist, the British public is becoming more not less nationalist in its taste.

The most popular of the top 100 programmes during 1997 were, on average 12 years old and "thoroughly British". The report continued:

"Old favourites such as The Antiques Roadshow (50th), Birds of a Feather (39th), and One Foot in the Grave (13th) continue to do well with the tradition-loving British public, who favour new instalments of familiar programmes rather than new series. Only 12 new series made the grade."

The top two programmes were:

1. Heartbeat a nostalgic look at rural police work in a north Yorkshire village during the 1960s, in which only British people and (mostly) British pop music of the era feature.
2. A Touch of Frost, a modern police drama set in a provincial S.E. England town in which the main character, Inspector Frost G.C., is a widower treading a lonely path through a world from which he is becoming alienated but who combines a set of virtues which the English seem to value: dedication, modesty, decency and wry humour.

Other top favourites include: Audience With, Before They Were Famous, It'll Be Alright On the Night, and Ronnie Barker: A Life in Comedy.

Imported programmes — American feature films and Australian 'soaps' — have faded in popularity. Five years ago 25 of the top 100 programmes came from abroad. Now none makes the top 50.

Says Mr. Phillips:

"We are more xenophobic than ever before."

EUROCRATS IN BRAWL OVER EUROBABBLE

EVER-deepening cracks are starting to disfigure the public face of unity which the Euro-Federalists try so desperately to project to the world.

Quite apart from the chaotic scenes of in-fighting, bribery and criteria-fudging which characterised the launching of the single European currency, the Eurocrats are now involved in a brawl over language.

At a time when the European Union (EU) is preparing to enlarge itself by admitting 11 new members, many of the 15 established members are worried their language may be 'demoted'.

At present 11 languages are officially recognised. Translation and interpretation services must be provided for each nation at all EU meetings.

At some meetings there are more translators than delegates. All this babble is minuted verbatim and translated into all the official languages.

The annual wage bill for this translation and interpretation service is in excess of £200 million.

These costs are set to rise completely out of control if the languages of the new members are to be accorded the same status. As a result, there have been moves to reduce the number of 'official' languages.

The problem is: which languages are to get the chop?

English does not seem to be threatened. It could become the sole official 'euro-speak'. That suggestion has driven our Continental cousins up the wall.

The Greeks have threatened to walk out of official EU meetings. Multi-lingual French officials have started to refuse to speak anything but French. Spanish, Portuguese and Italian officials throw screaming tantrums and storm out of meetings when their languages are not used.

What larks!

An official complaint from the French government has been sent to the chief Euro-Commissioner, Jacques Santer, complaining about the way English is beginning to supplant French as the number one language of the EU.

The Daily Telegraph of 3rd April 1998 reported that top EU officials "now fear the language war could complicate the enlargement process".

One un-named senior EU diplomat was quoted as saying: "If we don't watch out, we will get in a real mess over all this."

WHITE PUPILS NOW IN A MINORITY

THIS report by Daily Telegraph Education Editor John Clare, commenced:

"Fifty years after the first new Commonwealth immigrants arrived in Britain, black and Asian children now form the majority of pupils in inner London schools . . .

"For the first time, white pupils in 900 primary and secondary schools are in a minority, a London Research Centre study found.

"In the 12 inner London boroughs, white children made up 45 per cent of the roll in primary schools, 49 per cent in secondary schools — 47 per cent overall.

"Black children from Caribbean and African backgrounds accounted for 29 per cent. Those of Asian immigrants — from Bangladesh, India and Pakistan — made up 15 per cent. The rest were Chinese and other groups . . .

"The higher birth-rate in black and Asian communities suggests that the proportion of whites in inner London schools and parts of the Midlands will continue to decline . . ."

The report went on to record that half of inner London's 240,000 pupils were entitled to free meals, mostly because their parents were unemployed. A third did not have English as first language.

Eleven of the twelve inner London boroughs came in the bottom half of the 1997 (secondary) educational league tables which record the proportion of pupils passing at least five GCSEs at grades A to C.

Clare, who has long espoused the multi-racialist cause, claims that these results were not surprising "given the correlation between economic disadvantage and poor exam results".

This excuse is, of course, multi-racialist disinformation propaganda dressed-up as scholarship.

British children of the pre-WW2 era — from desperately deprived homes, attending chronically over-crowded/under-staffed council schools — managed to acquire by the age of 12 a degree of literacy and numeracy which would (or, at least, should) be the envy of a majority of today's 16-year-old inner-city school leavers.

Evidence that the problem being faced by inner London schools is a racial problem was seen in the figures produced by the London Research Centre study of 20 outer London boroughs.

Of these, schools in Brent, Ealing, Haringey and Newham all featured in the bottom half of the school league tables. Those boroughs are, of course, noted for the huge size of their Afro-Caribbean and/or Asian populations.

Clare turned to an academic (who sounds like a refugee from a 'Peter Simple' column) to trot out a few more learned-sounding but thoroughly bogus excuses for the crisis facing multi-racialism: Dr. Jagdish Gundara, head of the Centre for Inter-Cultural Studies at the London University Institute of Education.

• Dr. Gundara: "Immigrants were drawn to London because the jobs were there and had stayed when the jobs disappeared".

Discounting the motives of the first wave of West Indian incomers in the 1950s, the main lure for most immigrants was and is Britain's welfare and benefits system, not the prospect of employment. 'Downsizing' has long been the main feature of Britain's employment situation.

Yet for the past 25 years, illiterate peasants from Bangladesh, with no word of English and no skills whatever, have been pouring by the thousand into Tower Hamlets, East London, even though they know there is no work to which they are qualified to turn a hand.

It's the 'free' dole money, 'free' housing, 'free' health services and 'free' education which brings them in, not job prospects.

Dr. Gandara: "Fear of racial discrimination had prevented many from moving and this had been exacerbated by 'White Flight' to find better schools. The danger is that the disadvantage becomes cumulative for those left behind."

If fears of racial discrimination prevent immigrants from moving away from their ghettos within Britain, how is it that these fears did not prevent them from moving TO Britain in the first place? The 'racism' of a majority of ordinary Britons is hardly a secret.

ways existed, but it has clearly increased. We advance two reasons for this:

LONDON

OUR capital city is in the

WHITE CHILDREN BECOME

Daily Telegraph,

LONDONERS HIT ROCK BOTTOM

Evening Standard

UNDER-16s PREGNANCY RATE

Daily Telegraph

LONDON HIT BY HUGO

Evening Standard

These headlines may appear

But they deal with different

The collapse of civilisation

CRIME: DRUGS & VIOLENCE

THE first point of significance about this Evening Standard report was that its author, Julia Hartley-Brewer, is a member of the paper's political and not its crime staff:

"Drug crime in London soared by 30 per cent last year as the tide of violent crime in the capital continued to rise . . .

"Despite the government's vigorous campaign against drug barons and dealers, the police recorded 4,822 offences in the trafficking of drugs, a rise of 1,118 on 1996" . . .

The huge increase in drugs crime is linked to the increase in violent crimes such as mugging.

A survey published by the Standing Conference on Drug Abuse (Scoda) in April, revealed:

"Some 20 per cent of criminals are testing positive for heroin or cocaine . . . A drug user that is an addict will be committing something in the order of five crimes a week."

Further gloom was added to the drugs-crime situation with a report which revealed that drug dealers specialising in heroin are now selling 'fixes' to "young rich kids" for their own use.

Dealers figure the market for heroin. They offer this "cure new customers ready cash and the assets."

Once these City have spent all hocked all their pension of fraud and will surely increase desperate.

The injury this nation's commercial — particularly City financial — young people are with multi-million — cannot be Commentators ing the obvious the drugs-crime development of the society".

There was no problem in Britain world war. Drug pact on the lives of the population. Consequently nothing like the

LONDON ROCK-BOTTOM IN LITERACY

THIS report by Evening Standard Education Correspondent Joel Wolchover recorded the fact that nationwide, one in three adults cannot handle the oyed. A third did not have English as first language.

Eleven of the twelve inner London boroughs came in the bottom half of the 1997 (secondary) educational league tables which record the proportion of pupils passing at least five GCSEs at grades A to C.

Clare, who has long espoused the multi-racialist cause, claims that these results were not surprising "given the correlation between economic disadvantage and poor exam results".

This excuse is, of course, multi-racialist disinformation propaganda dressed-up as scholarship.

British children of the pre-WW2 era — from desperately deprived homes, attending chronically over-crowded/under-staffed council schools — managed to acquire by the age of 12 a degree of literacy and numeracy which would (or, at least, should) be the envy of a majority of today's 16-year-old inner-city school leavers.

LONDON ROCK-BOTTOM IN LITERACY

THIS report by Evening Standard Education Correspondent Joel Wolchover recorded the fact that nationwide, one in three adults cannot handle the simplest of maths questions, according to a survey conducted by the government's Basic Skills Agency. He continued:

"In London, the picture is even worse, with up to half the adults in some boroughs unable to do sums that would enable them to make sense of a train timetable or add the cost of three items of shopping."

"The tables, compiled from simple reading and writing tests, taken by more than 8,000 adults across the country, also show that 16 per cent of the population is functionally illiterate.

"Out of more than 130 local authorities, London boroughs took four of the bottom five places for levels of literacy, with almost a quarter of the adults in some areas unable to read parcel labels."

It must be noted that persons for whom English is a second language were not included in these tests. Consequently the full scale of the illiteracy/innumeracy problem confronting Britain has not been revealed.

Quite obviously while a substantial, perhaps predominant, portion of the persons tested as illiterate and innumerate will be immigrants for whom English is their first language — in particular, Afro-Caribbeans — the number of White people represented in the survey will also be significant.

Some of the illiterate Whites will be people of below-average intelligence and/or ineducable due to anti-social or other personality disorders. This sub-strata among our own people has always existed, but it has clearly increased. We advance two reasons for this:

1. As schools have filled up with the children of alien immigrants, teachers have found themselves compelled (or, for reasons of inverted racism, inclined) to devote more of their time to those pupils.

The fate of White children who find themselves in classes where 80 or 90 per cent of their classmates are aliens is a scandal. They lose track of their own heritage as they are swamped by alien cultures and they become aliens — and alienated — in their own native land.

2. The education system has been at the forefront of the campaign to hammer the multi-racial square peg into the round hole of British nationality.

In order to promote preposterous ideas of "equality" and to "boost the self-esteem" of immigrant children, educational standards have been systematically watered-down.

These developments have permeated throughout the education system, even in areas where there are few or no minority ethnic pupils on the school roles.

Such 'dumbing-down' trends, coupled with the relaxation of traditional standards of discipline — all in the cause of trying to MAKE multi-racialism work — have had a terrible impact on the less academically-inclined among our white working class children.

CHOICE says: Those who doubt the truth of our analysis should ask themselves why Prime Minister Tony Blair sent his two lads to the Oratory School in Knightsbridge rather than let them experience the "cultural enrichment" on offer at the comprehensive near his former Islington home.

Yet for the past 25 years, illiterate peasants from Bangladesh, with no word of English and no skills whatever, have been pouring by the thousand into Tower Hamlets, East London, even though they know there is no work to which they are qualified to turn a hand.

It's the 'free' dole money, 'free' housing, 'free' health services and 'free' education which brings them in, not job prospects.

Dr. Gandara: "Fear of racial discrimination had prevented many from moving and this had been exacerbated by 'White Flight' to find better schools. The danger is that the disadvantage becomes cumulative for those left behind."

If fears of racial discrimination prevent immigrants from moving away from their ghettos within Britain, how is it that these fears did not prevent them from moving TO Britain in the first place? The 'racism' of a majority of ordinary Britons is hardly a secret.

Protesters, is a member of the paper's political and not its crime staff:

"Drug crime in London soared by 30 per cent last year as the tide of violent crime in the capital continued to rise . . ."

"Despite the government's vigorous campaign against drug barons and dealers, the police recorded 4,822 offences in the trafficking of drugs, a rise of 1,118 on 1996" . . .

The huge increase in drugs crime is linked to the increase in violent crimes such as mugging.

A survey published by the Standing Conference on Drug Abuse (Scoda) in April, revealed:

"Some 20 per cent of criminals are testing positive for heroin or cocaine . . . A drug user that is an addict will be committing something in the order of five crimes a week."

Further gloom was added to the drugs-crime situation with a report which revealed that drug-dealers specialising in heroin are now selling 'fixes' to "young rich kids" for the price of a pint of beer in order to get a foothold in a market currently dominated by cocaine.

BOROUGH'S GUIDE TO

IN OUR last issue we reported how the London Borough of Barnet had withdrawn its grant to a hospice caring for dying local people in order to throw money at a variety of exotic alien 'refugee' groups.

Since then the Council's Directorate of Social Services has produced a booklet, Advice for Asylum-Seekers. The tone is set by its introduction:

"Do you need advice on benefits? Do you need help with food, clothing, accommodation? Do you need legal representation? If so, then read on to find out what services are available to you in Barnet."

Chapter headings include:

- What to do if you are homeless and have no money.
- What to do if you have children with you.
- What to do about sending your child to school.
- What to do if you are elderly, disabled, or have a mental health problem.

care new custom ready cash and assets.

Once these City have spent all hocked all their presence of fraud will surely increase desperate.

The injury this nation's commotion — particularly City financial young people with multi-million — cannot be Commentators ing the obvious the drugs-crime elopment of the society".

There was no problem in Britain world war. Drug pact on the lives ulation. Consequently nothing like the which we now e

The drugs currency was imported:

- What to do to
- What to do i your rent.

In all these a battery of council 'independent' organisations ar fight your corne

Organisations ionwide coverage

The Refugee Foundation for of Torture [Is the White people trapped estates?] · Refugee Refugee Arrivals Aid · Detention Joint Council f Immigrants.

Local organis ude:

Refugee Com Community Cer fare Association Association · S Group · Sierra Group · Somali

A MINORITY

the problem being faced by inner city London is a racial problem was seen in a report produced by the London Research Council for the 20 outer London boroughs. The report, published in 1997, featured in the bottom half of the Evening Standard tables. Those boroughs are, of course, the huge size of their Afro-Caribbean or Asian populations. To an academic (who sounds like a 'Peter Simple' column) to trot out a learned-sounding but thoroughly misleading report on the crisis facing multi-racial London is like Gundara, head of the Centre for Urban Studies at the London University, saying: "Immigrants were drawn to London jobs were there and had stayed appeared".

he motives of the first wave of immigrants in the 1950s, the main lure was money and is Britain's welfare state, not the prospect of employment. 'The main feature of the employment situation over the past 25 years, illiterate peasants from the Third World, have been pouring by the thousands into Tower Hamlets, East London, where they know there is no work to which they can turn a hand.

They have no money, 'free' housing, 'free' education which brings no prospects. "Fear of racial discrimination had been a major factor in moving and this had been excluded from the 'White Flight' to find better schools. The disadvantage becomes cumulative left behind."

racial discrimination prevent immigrants from moving away from their ghettos within London. It is that these fears did not prevent them from coming TO Britain in the first place? A majority of ordinary Britons is ing TO Britain in the first place? A majority of ordinary Britons is ing TO Britain in the first place? A majority of ordinary Britons is ing TO Britain in the first place? A majority of ordinary Britons is ing TO Britain in the first place? A majority of ordinary Britons is ing TO Britain in the first place? A majority of ordinary Britons is

LONDON IS DYING

OUR capital city is in the throes of a catastrophe.

WHITE CHILDREN BECOME MINORITY IN INNER LONDON

Daily Telegraph, 20th December 1997

LONDONERS HIT ROCK BOTTOM IN LITERACY TESTS

Evening Standard, 10th March 1998

UNDER-16s PREGNANCY RATE HIGHEST FOR 11 YEARS

Daily Telegraph, 13th March 1998

LONDON HIT BY HUGE RISE IN DRUG CRIME

Evening Standard, 7th April 1998

These headlines may appear to cover separate topics. But they deal with different aspects of the SAME issue: The collapse of civilisation due to multi-racialism.

CRIME: DRUGS & VIOLENCE HIT NEW HIGH

THE first point of significance about this Evening Standard report was that its author, Julia Hartley-Brewer, is a member of the paper's political and not its crime staff:

"Drug crime in London soared by 30 per cent last year as the tide of violent crime in the capital continued to rise . . .

"Despite the government's vigorous campaign against drug barons and dealers, the police recorded 4,822 offences in the trafficking of drugs, a rise of 1,118 on 1996"...

The huge increase in drugs crime is linked to the increase in violent crimes such as mugging.

A survey published by the Standing Conference on Drug Abuse (Scoda) in April, revealed:

"Some 20 per cent of criminals are testing positive for heroin or cocaine . . . A drug user that is an addict will be committing something in the order of five crimes a week."

Further gloom was added to the drugs-crime situation with a report which revealed that drug dealers specialising in heroin are now selling 'fixes' to "young rich kids" for the price of a pint of beer in order

Dealers figure the inner-city market for heroin is now saturated. They offer this "loss leader" to secure new customers, with access to ready cash and then, later, saleable assets.

Once these City 'whiz-kid' types have spent all their cash and hocked all their property, the incidence of fraud and embezzlement will surely increase as they become desperate.

The injury this will inflict on the nation's commercial life and reputation — particularly in the case of City financial institutions where young people are daily entrusted with multi-million pound transactions — cannot be under-stated.

Commentators are shy of making the obvious linkage between the drugs-crime crisis and the development of the "multi-cultural society".

There was no major hard-drugs problem in Britain before the last world war. Drug abuse had no impact on the lives of the general population. Consequently, there was nothing like the level of crime then which we now experience.

• Firstly, by the West Indian immigrants who had a culture of 'personal use' of cannabis.

• Secondly, by various Middle East and Far East immigrants who promoted heroin use as a business.

• Thirdly, by West Indian "Yardie" gangsters who manage the importation and distribution of cocaine.

In the late 1960s and early 1970s the authorities thought that they had the heroin problem contained. Then came the fall of the Shah of Persia.

Britain admitted 200,000 Iranian 'refugees' from Ayatollah Khomeini. They could not flee with their cash, so they converted their assets into heroin and smuggled it into Britain. As a result the hard-drugs problem exploded.

The importation and pushing of heroin is now being conducted by Pakistanis, Turks and Kurds.

The cost of drug addiction is counted not just in terms of property stolen and people injured by addicts, but in the drain of resources in police and court time, prisons and medical treatment — and the destruction of lives.

UNDER

THIS report by Daily Telegraph pundit David Fletcher is the most serious of the three in this feature. It deals with the will super-charge the situation examined in the column commenced:

"Pregnancies among under-16s have risen for the third year running to a level for 11 years, according to figures released today . . .

"The figures add up to a grim picture, due to be laid out in a programme of Health in May, to find out the pregnancy, now the highest in 11 years."

"Figures from the statistics showed that 8,822 girls became pregnant in 1996, the highest since 1985 when there were 9,406 pregnancies which were aborted.

"The average pregnancy rate for under 16 reached 9.4 per 1,000, higher than the previous year. The masks extremely high in some parts of the country."

"The highest was in Lewisham Health Authority where the rate among 15-17 year olds was 17.6 per 1,000. The lowest was in Surrey Health Authority where it was 6.6."

"A total of 459 girls became pregnant in 1996. Nearly 2,000 pregnancies, 6,300 were 15 years or under."

Regular Choice readers will be told that the borough of Lewisham contains a high proportion of Afro-Caribbean people, counting Croydon, Epsom and Sutton "culturally enriched" areas.

There is no reason to suppose that the proportionate level of illegitimate births aged under 16 in such areas is due to illegitimate births. The analysis of population censuses and anecdotal evidence tends to confirm this.

For many years now the authorities have tried to account for the so-called 'sexual relations' between black people by gushing about "Family tradition" (in which the young men employ the 'demonium known as years, illiterate peasants, with no word of English and never, have been pouring by the Tower Hamlets, East London, you know there is no work to which to turn a hand. No money, 'free' housing, 'free' and 'free' education which brings no prospects.

"Fear of racial discrimination had from moving and this had been ex- 'white flight' to find better schools. at the disadvantage becomes cumulative behind."

... discrimination prevent immigrating away from their ghettos within that these fears did not prevent coming TO Britain in the first place? a majority of ordinary Britons is

N LITERACY

... it has clearly increased. We admissions for this:

... have filled up with the children of ... s, teachers have found themselves ... reasons of inverted racism, incl- ... more of their time to those pupils. ... white children who find themselves ... 80 or 90 per cent of their class- ... is a scandal. They lose track of ... ge as they are swamped by alien ... y become aliens — and alienated ... native land.

... n system has been at the forefront ... to hammer the multi-racial square ... nd hole of British nationality.

... ote preposterous ideas of "eq- ... boost the self-esteem" of immig- ... educational standards have been ... watered-down.

... oments have permeated through- ... on system, even in areas where ... no minority ethnic pupils on the

... g-down' trends, coupled with the ... ditional standards of discipline — ... f trying to MAKE multi-racialism ... d a terrible impact on the less ac- ... among our white working

Those who doubt the truth of our ... ask themselves why Prime Minister ... is two lads to the Oratory School ... rather than let them experience ... enrichment" on offer at the compre- ... former Islington home.

... a member of the paper's political and not its crime staff:

"Drug crime in London soared by 30 per cent last year as the tide of violent crime in the capital continued to rise ...

"Despite the government's vigorous campaign against drug barons and dealers, the police recorded 4,822 offences in the trafficking of drugs, a rise of 1,118 on 1996"...

The huge increase in drugs crime is linked to the increase in violent crimes such as mugging.

A survey published by the Standing Conference on Drug Abuse (Scoda) in April, revealed:

"Some 20 per cent of criminals are testing positive for heroin or cocaine ... A drug user that is an addict will be committing something in the order of five crimes a week."

Further gloom was added to the drugs-crime situation with a report which revealed that drug-dealers specialising in heroin are now selling 'fixes' to "young rich kids" for the price of a pint of beer in order to get a foothold in a market currently dominated by cocaine.

BOROUGH'S GUIDE TO 'REFUGEE' PAMPERING

IN OUR last issue we reported how the London Borough of Barnet had withdrawn its grant to a hospice caring for dying local people in order to throw money at a variety of exotic alien 'refugee' groups.

Since then the Council's Directorate of Social Services has produced a booklet, Advice for Asylum-Seekers. The tone is set by its introduction:

"Do you need advice on benefits? Do you need help with food, clothing, accommodation? Do you need legal representation? If so, then read on to find out what services are available to you in Barnet."

Chapter headings include:

- What to do if you are homeless and have no money.
- What to do if you have children with you.
- What to do about sending your child to school.
- What to do if you are elderly, disabled, or have a mental health problem.

... cure new customers, with access to ready cash and then, later, saleable assets.

Once these City 'whiz-kid' types have spent all their cash and hocked all their property, the incidence of fraud and embezzlement will surely increase as they become desperate.

The injury this will inflict on the nation's commercial life and reputation — particularly in the case of City financial institutions where young people are daily entrusted with multi-million pound transactions — cannot be under-stated.

Commentators are shy of making the obvious linkage between the drugs-crime crisis and the development of the "multi-cultural society".

There was no major hard-drugs problem in Britain before the last world war. Drug abuse had no impact on the lives of the general population. Consequently, there was nothing like the level of crime then which we now experience.

The drugs culture we now see was imported:

- What to do to receive health care.
- What to do if you cannot pay your rent.

In all these and other cases, a battery of council, government and 'independent' (publicly-funded) organisations are at hand ready to fight your corner.

Organisations listed with a nationwide coverage include:

The Refugee Council · Medical Foundation for the Care of Victims of Torture [Is this open to elderly White people trapped in multi-racial estates?] · Refugee Legal Centre · Refugee Arrivals Project · Asylum Aid · Detention Advice Service · Joint Council for the Welfare of Immigrants.

Local organisations listed include:

Refugee Consortium · Iranian Community Centre · Iranian Welfare Association · African Cultural Association · Somali Community Group · Sierra Leone Refugees Group · Somali Bravanese Welfare

... Secondly, by various Middle East and Far East immigrants who promoted heroin use as a business. • Thirdly, by West Indian "Yardie" gangsters who manage the importation and distribution of cocaine.

In the late 1960s and early 1970s the authorities thought that they had the heroin problem contained. Then came the fall of the Shah of Persia.

Britain admitted 200,000 Iranian 'refugees' from Ayatollah Khomeini. They could not flee with their cash, so they converted their assets into heroin and smuggled it into Britain. As a result the hard-drugs problem exploded.

The importation and pushing of heroin is now being conducted by Pakistanis, Turks and Kurds.

The cost of drug addiction is counted not just in terms of property stolen and people injured by addicts, but in the drain of resources in police and court time, prisons and medical treatment — and the destruction of young lives which might otherwise have been productive.

Association · Sri Lankan Education and Welfare Association.

Barnet is not an exceptional local council. This kind of inverted racism is being perpetrated by councils the length and breadth of the land.

CHOICE asks: We should like to know what happens when the circumstances of a 'refugee'-supplying country change for the better. Surely the citizens of those places should be returned?

We see no evidence that this is happening. Why? If, as we suspect, this process is never implemented then the word 'refugee' has lost its meaning.

Nobody would suggest that if some kind soul takes in a neighbour overnight — or even for a longer period — in the event of some disaster, that the neighbour should, thereby, acquire permanent residency, membership of the host's household and the right to raid the larder!

Why are things so very different in the matter of our national home?

... The highest was 17.6 per 1,000. The low

Lewisham Health Authority where the rate among 17.6 per 1,000. The low Surrey Health Authority

"A total of 459 girls in 1996. Nearly 2,000, 6,300 were 15 ..."

Regular Choice readers told that the Borough of Lewisham contains a high proportion of Afro-Caribbean people, counting Croydon, Epsom, "culturally enriched" extent.

There is no reason for a proportionate level of illegitimate births aged under 16 in such areas, by illegitimate births to young women, analyses of population change, anecdotal evidence tends to

For many years now, to account for the social to sexual relations made by Indian people by gushing about "Family tradition" (in tones they employ when demonium known as

But "Extended Family" family. No Father and either — just lots of

The social and economic on our British unitary fold to discuss here exists to indicate that

LETTER TO EDITOR AUSTRALIA

Dear Jane, Here in Australia we are just British-bashing bi-ory. Next week the C opens in Canberra.

This was intended to lia should retain the Q come a republic. But s appointed to the conv- bate' about when rath- likely date is 2000.

During the republic been pushing for a ne- the Union Jack in the Almost no-one in A say about Britain and the "dark colonial pas- sessed the Aborigines and we are all asked book.

We are also being

IS DYING

throes of a catastrophe.

MINORITY IN INNER LONDON

10th December 1997

BOTTOM IN LITERACY TESTS

10th March 1998

ATE HIGHEST FOR 11 YEARS

13th March 1998

THE RISE IN DRUG CRIME

7th April 1998

ar to cover separate topics.

at aspects of the SAME issue:

ion due to multi-racialism.

LENCE HIT NEW HIGH

the inner-city is now saturated. "Boss leader" to seers, with access to en, later, saleable by 'whiz-kid' types their cash and property, the incident and embezzlement as they become will inflict on the al life and reputa- rly in the case of institutions where e daily entrusted n pound transact- under-stated.

are shy of mak- linkage between risis and the deve- "multi-cultural major hard-drugs in before the last abuse had no im- of the general pop- ulently, there was vel of crime then

• Firstly, by the West Indian immigrants who had a culture of 'personal use' of cannabis.

• Secondly, by various Middle East and Far East immigrants who promoted heroin use as a business.

• Thirdly, by West Indian "Yardie" gangsters who manage the importation and distribution of cocaine.

In the late 1960s and early 1970s the authorities thought that they had the heroin problem contained. Then came the fall of the Shah of Persia.

Britain admitted 200,000 Iranian 'refugees' from Ayatollah Khomeini. They could not flee with their cash, so they converted their assets into heroin and smuggled it into Britain. As a result the hard-drugs problem exploded.

The importation and pushing of heroin is now being conducted by Pakistanis, Turks and Kurds.

The cost of drug addiction is counted not just in terms of property stolen and people injured by addicts, but in the drain of resources in police and court time, prisons and medical treatment — and the destruc-

UNDER-AGE PREGNANCIES SOAR

THIS report by Daily Telegraph Health Correspondent David Fletcher, is, in the long term, the most serious of the three reports under review in this feature. It deals with a phenomenon which will super-charge the spiral of social disintegration examined in the other three reports. It commenced:

"Pregnancies among girls aged under 16 have risen for the third year running to reach the highest level for 11 years, according to official figures released today . . .

"The figures add urgency to a government programme, due to be launched by the Department of Health in May, to find ways of tackling teenage pregnancy, now the highest in Europe.

"Figures from the Office for National Statistics showed that 8,829 under-age girls became pregnant in 1996, the highest level since 1985 when there were 9,406. About 4,500 pregnancies were aborted.

"The average pregnancy rate among girls under 16 reached 9.4 per 1,000 in 1996, 10 per cent higher than the previous year, but the average masks extremely high rates in some parts of the country.

"The highest was in Lambeth, Southwark and Lewisham Health Authority area in south London, where the rate among 14 and 15-year-olds soared to 17.6 per 1,000. The lowest, only 3.5, was in the East Surrey Health Authority area.

"A total of 459 girls under 14 became pregnant in 1996. Nearly 2,000 were 14 and more than 6,300 were 15 . . ."

Regular Choice readers will hardly need to be told that the boroughs of Lambeth, Southwark and Lewisham contain the greatest concentration of Afro-Caribbean people in inner London. Discounting Croydon, East Surrey is not — yet — "culturally enriched" to anything like the same extent.

There is no reason to suppose that the disproportionate level of illegitimate births to females aged under 16 in such areas will not be replicated by illegitimate births to females aged over 16. Analyses of population census returns and much anecdotal evidence tend to confirm this.

For many years now multi-racialists have tried to account for the socially irresponsible attitude to sexual relations manifested by many West Indian people by gushing on about their "Extended Family tradition" (in the same quasi-academic tones they employ when discussing, say, the pandemonium known as the Notting Hill Carnival).

ren tend to become a heavy burden on income tax and council tax payers, among whom (to put no finer point on it) their natural parents tend not to be strongly represented.

We give two samples of this evidence:

• A link between the lack of a stable family background and anti-social behaviour — specifically, sexual precocity — was one of the issues canvassed during recent trials of Afro-Caribbean primary school children involved (as perpetrators and victims) in gang rapes.

• The May 1998 issue of Adoption and Fostering Journal published details of a study of 1,300 children from birth to 16. This found that: "children brought up by single mothers are twice as likely to commit criminal offences . . . and are likely to be far more liable to abuse drink and drugs".

As the number of inner-city illegitimates is set to grow exponentially, associated problems will likewise increase at an uncontrollable rate.

Schools for children "with special needs", orphanages, mental asylums, young offenders institutions, prisons — all already containing a disproportionate population of Afro-Caribbeans — will bulge at the seams and explode.

This will affect every aspect of our daily life, first in London, then throughout the rest of the country. Ultimately the criminal justice system will fail to cope and this will impact on the economic and social infrastructure of our nation.

The rich will be able to achieve a measure of safety by retreating behind the walls of fortified condominiums protected by private security guards. The rest of us will have to fend for ourselves as best we can.

Those who doubt this are referred to a report by Sir Paul Condon, Commissioner of the Metropolitan Police, issued in April. He stated that the 'Met' can no longer afford 'Bobby on the Beat' patrols and that the gap will have to be filled by closed circuit TV monitoring and private security firms.

And what is the government's strategy to ward off this nightmare prospect?

It intends to inspire articles in magazines aimed at teenage girls, advising them about contraceptive techniques.

The genius who thought up that master stroke (Public Health Minister Tessa Jowell) is either too naïve to realise, or too 'politically correct' to admit, that the kind of inner-city girl in her early teens vulnerable to impregnation:

• Will probably not be functionally literate and,

...with access to
...en, later, saleable
... 'whiz-kid' types
...their cash and
...property, the incid-
...and embezzlement
...as they become

...will inflict on the
...al life and reputa-
...ly in the case of
...stitutions where
...are daily entrusted
...pound transacted
...under-stated.
...are shy of mak-
...linkage between
...crisis and the dev-
... "multi-cultural

...major hard-drugs
...n before the last
...abuse had no im-
...of the general pop-
...tently, there was
...level of crime then
...perience.
...ture we now see

...will inflict on the
...al life and reputa-
...ly in the case of
...stitutions where
...are daily entrusted
...pound transacted
...under-stated.
...are shy of mak-
...linkage between
...crisis and the dev-
... "multi-cultural

...major hard-drugs
...n before the last
...abuse had no im-
...of the general pop-
...tently, there was
...level of crime then
...perience.
...ture we now see

...major hard-drugs
...n before the last
...abuse had no im-
...of the general pop-
...tently, there was
...level of crime then
...perience.
...ture we now see

...major hard-drugs
...n before the last
...abuse had no im-
...of the general pop-
...tently, there was
...level of crime then
...perience.
...ture we now see

'REFUGEE' PAMPERING

...ceive health care.
...you cannot pay

...and other cases, a
...government and
...publicly-funded)
...at hand ready to

...isted with a nat-
...include:

...Council · Medical
...Care of Victims

...is open to elderly
...ed in multi-racial

...Legal Centre ·
...Project · Asylum

...Advice Service ·
...r the Welfare of

...ations listed incl-

...ortium · Iranian

...re · Iranian Wel-

...African Cultural
...mali Community

...Leone Refugees
...ravanese Welfare

Association · Sri Lankan Education and Welfare Association.

Barnet is not an exceptional local council. This kind of inverted racism is being perpetrated by councils the length and breadth of the land.

CHOICE asks: We should like to know what happens when the circumstances of a 'refugee'-supplying country change for the better. Surely the citizens of those places should be returned?

We see no evidence that this is happening. Why? If, as we suspect, this process is never implemented then the word 'refugee' has lost its meaning.

Nobody would suggest that if some kind soul takes in a neighbour overnight — or even for a longer period — in the event of some disaster, that the neighbour should, thereby, acquire permanent residency, membership of the host's household and the right to raise the larder!

Why are things so very different in the matter of our national home?

...The highest of which was in Lambeth, Southwark and Lewisham Health Authority area in south London, where the rate among 14 and 15-year-olds soared to 17.6 per 1,000. The lowest, only 3.5, was in the East Surrey Health Authority area.

"A total of 459 girls under 14 became pregnant in 1996. Nearly 2,000 were 14 and more than 6,300 were 15 . . ."

Regular Choice readers will hardly need to be told that the boroughs of Lambeth, Southwark and Lewisham contain the greatest concentration of Afro-Caribbean people in inner London. Discounting Croydon, East Surrey is not — yet — "culturally enriched" to anything like the same extent.

There is no reason to suppose that the disproportionate level of illegitimate births to females aged under 16 in such areas will not be replicated by illegitimate births to females aged over 16. Analyses of population census returns and much anecdotal evidence tend to confirm this.

For many years now multi-racialists have tried to account for the socially irresponsible attitude to sexual relations manifested by many West Indian people by gushing on about their "Extended Family tradition" (in the same quasi-academic tones they employ when discussing, say, the pandemonium known as the Notting Hill Carnival).

But "Extended Family" usually means NO family. No Father and, very often, no Mother either — just lots of "Uncles" and "Aunties".

The social and economic impact of this chaos on our British unitary family society is too manifold to discuss here in any detail. But evidence exists to indicate that "Extended Family" child-

LETTER TO EDITOR OF 'CHOICE':

AUSTRALIA IN GRIP OF "ANTI-BRITISH ORGY"

Dear Jane, 26-1-98
Here in Australia we are about to start the greatest British-bashing binge in this country's history. Next week the Constitutional Convention opens in Canberra.

This was intended to look into whether Australia should retain the Queen as head of state or become a republic. But so few pro-Monarchists got appointed to the convention that it will be a 'debate' about when rather than whether — and the likely date is 2000.

During the republican stir-up, another lot have been pushing for a new flag — minus, of course, the Union Jack in the corner.

Almost no-one in Australia has a good word to say about Britain and the British. They speak of the "dark colonial past" when the British dispossessed the Aborigines and committed "genocide" and we are all asked to sign a national "Sorry" book.

We are also being urged to cut all remaining

...This will affect every aspect of our daily life, first in London, then throughout the rest of the country. Ultimately the criminal justice system will fail to cope and this will impact on the economic and social infrastructure of our nation.

The rich will be able to achieve a measure of safety by retreating behind the walls of fortified condominiums protected by private security guards. The rest of us will have to fend for ourselves as best we can.

Those who doubt this are referred to a report by Sir Paul Condon, Commissioner of the Metropolitan Police, issued in April. He stated that the 'Met' can no longer afford 'Bobby on the Beat' patrols and that the gap will have to be filled by closed circuit TV monitoring and private security firms.

And what is the government's strategy to ward off this nightmare prospect?

It intends to inspire articles in magazines aimed at teenage girls, advising them about contraception techniques.

The genius who thought up that master stroke (Public Health Minister Tessa Jowell) is either too naïve to realise, or too 'politically correct' to admit, that the kind of inner-city girl in her early teens vulnerable to impregnation:

- Will probably not be functionally literate and, hence, not a reader of even the most moronic 'teen' magazines;

and/or

- Will live in a 'culture' in which the males routinely impose themselves on young girls and disdain any impediment to instant gratification.

ties with a people (the British) who "sailed out in their ships from their tiny islands and raped the world".

All this anti-British activity springs from a big campaign called "Reconciliation" which is designed to unite the Whites with the Aborigines — once the Whites have apologised and paid out enormous sums of compensation, of course.

Can you imagine what it will be like when Republic Day dawns? All the rag-bag that makes up Melbourne will be joining up with the so-called Aborigines (most of them now only have a little 'Aboriginal blood') and the vengeful Irish in an anti-British orgy.

Once they have burned all the Union Jacks and toppled the Queen Victoria statues, they will begin fighting among themselves. If I live long enough, I expect to see this country fall apart like Yugoslavia — only worse.

Bruce M.,
Melbourne, Australia.

"VICTIMS OF RACISM"

SOME LEADING (AND MISLEADING) CASES

'RACIALLY AGGRAVATED CRIME'

ONE sad and, we have no doubt, utterly genuine victim (of something) has become a celebrity, with nationwide publicity in the press and on TV during March, and again in April.

She is Ms. Alison Moore, a Black single parent of a six-year-old daughter and a teacher at Sandhurst Junior School at Catford, South London.

The first bout of publicity came when she reported an attack on her by "four teenagers" who, she states, screamed "Black bitch" at her. The injuries they inflicted required a six day hospital stay.

The 23rd March Daily Telegraph report of this incident does not specify her attackers by race — except by implication. Ms. Moore's description of the incident indicates she was attacked "from behind" and that she "hunched herself forward to protect her face". In short, she did not see her assailants.

Ten days after that attack she reported that a death threat was pushed through her letter box by somebody unseen.

Then, on 13th March, she reported "a man" (his face was covered by a balaclava) who made threatening gestures at her through her kitchen window. When the Police arrived they found "swastikas and National Front logos had been daubed on her door".

IS IT 'KELLY', 'KATHY' OR HUSSAIN?

A SUCCESSFUL and "thoroughly legal" use of the Industrial Tribunal system is made by a 30-year-old Pakistani professional victim, Tahir Hussain, of Gillington Road, Bradford.

Despite higher education qualifications, he claims he has a vocation to be a car salesman. He sends in multiple applications to car sales firms — one in his own name, others in female names such as "Kelly Muxworthy" or "Catherine Riley", since he aims to win awards for sexual as well as racial discrimination.

In a number of instances the firms considered that their best interests would be served by employing a White British female and so they responded positively to applications apparently coming from such persons.

They should, of course, have protected themselves from 'discrimination' litigation by taking the BRITAIN'S inane race laws have prompted a growing number of aliens to embark on careers as professional 'victims'. Some set about achieving their goals in 'legal' — if morally dubious — ways, but others ...

As a result of all this, Ms. Moore has gone into hiding, emerging only to speak at the National Union of Teachers (NUT) conference at Blackpool on 22nd April, where she won a standing ovation and more massive publicity.

There can be no doubt that Ms. Moore was attacked. But the question is: by whom — and why?

Whatever may be said of the National Front — such as it now remains — it has never employed the swastika as one of its emblems and has always vigorously denied being a "Nazi" party. It has not had a branch anywhere in South London for years.

Who has benefited from the publicity attendant on the harassment of Ms. Moore?

In an immediate sense, Ms. Moore herself. The publicity about her martyrdom will not have harmed her career and, no doubt, a wholly justified application to the Criminal Injuries Compensation Board is pending.

The 'anti-racist' cause has certainly benefited. At the time of these highly publicised incidents, a Crime and Disorder Bill was before Parliament. (It is scheduled to receive the Royal Assent in July.)

'KEEP THE POLICE WHITE'

GETTING out of the Police service on the basis of racial or sexual discrimination has for some time been a path to riches for discontented officers seeking pastures new.

The Bill contains a clause to allow persons jailed for violence to be given up to an additional two years if their crime is proved to be "racially aggravated".

Initially, that clause was thought to be controversial as it gives aliens special protection and imposes on White Britons the burden, in effect, of having to prove their innocence of 'racism' if they become involved in a clash with aliens.

There can be no doubt that the violent incidents involving Ms. Moore, replete with swastika daubings, and the attendant stage-managed publicity bonanza, will have inhibited any parliamentarians or media commentators who might have opposed that outrageous — and racially discriminatory — clause from speaking up.

CHOICE says: We hope that the Police are still investigating this affair, because it bears all the hallmarks of an anti-racist 'dirty-tricks' operation.

Many active members of the NUT are also members of Trotskyite 'anti-racist' factions which have an unholy alliance with Jewish 'anti-fascist' groups. Both factions openly advocate and use violence and have a long record of unscrupulous 'dirty-tricks' activities.

GP FAKED 'RACE ATTACK'

ASIAN general practitioner Dr. Mohammad Subbuba faked a 'racist' arson attack on the nursing home that he owned in an attempt to swindle an insurance company of £1 million.

On 12th May Cardiff Crown Court was told that Dr. Subbuba had sprayed racist graffiti on walls to make it appear that "neo-Nazis" of the National Front were responsible — but the hoax was bungled and led to his exposure.

Police noted that the letters 'N' and 'F' were not joined together in the style of that party's logo. They were also, no doubt, aware that no NF branch has existed in South Wales for more than a decade and that arson attacks have never been a part of its modus operandi.

They then discovered that Dr. Subbuba had accumulated bank debts of £1 million due to failed business ventures. This prompted extensive forensic surveys. Charges against this 'victim of racism' soon followed.

'MALICIOUS FABRICATIONS'

Then, on 13th March, she reported "a man" (his face was covered by a balaclava) who made threatening gestures at her through her kitchen window. When the Police arrived they found "swastikas and National Front logos had been daubed on her door".

IS IT 'KELLY', 'KATHY' OR HUSSAIN?

A SUCCESSFUL and "thoroughly legal" use of the Industrial Tribunal system is made by a 30-year-old Pakistani professional victim, Tahir Hussain, of Gillington Road, Bradford.

Despite higher education qualifications, he claims he has a vocation to be a car salesman. He sends in multiple applications to car sales firms — one in his own name, others in female names such as "Kelly Muxworthy" or "Catherine Riley", since he aims to win awards for sexual as well as racial discrimination.

In a number of instances the firms considered that their best interests would be served by employing a White British female and so they responded positively to applications apparently coming from such persons.

They should, of course, have protected themselves from 'discrimination' litigation by taking the trouble to interview all applicants so that they could assess candidates' personalities as well as their paper qualifications.

Failure to do this enabled Mr. Hussain to bring two Bradford firms before a Tribunal last October, claiming racial and sexual discrimination. He picked up £7,750 in "aggravated damages" awards. This brought his total 'earnings' by such litigation to £24,250.

Mr. Hussain's lucrative "crusade against discrimination" was endorsed by Mohammad Arshad of Bradford's Racial Equality Council. He said:

"These firms had it coming. You cannot reverse discrimination by goodwill. Bradford firms need to know there are laws . . . They need to take equal opportunities seriously or they will be taken to the cleaners".

The Asian community's glee at Mr. Hussain's cleverness was not reflected in an opinion column published in the Dewsbury Recorder of 24th October. This observed:

"...I wonder if the Industrial Tribunal would be half as sympathetic or generous if he was a well-qualified, able-bodied heterosexual White man trying for one of those local Council jobs that beg for applications from 'Black and ethnic minorities, gays, women and the disabled'?"

We wonder if there are White people in Bradford who could test the equal opportunities policies of Asian-owned firms, using the tactics employed by Mr. Hussain?

Then, on 13th March, she reported "a man" (his face was covered by a balaclava) who made threatening gestures at her through her kitchen window. When the Police arrived they found "swastikas and National Front logos had been daubed on her door".

Whatever may be said of the National Front — such as it now remains — it has never employed the swastika as one of its emblems and has always vigorously denied being a "Nazi" party. It has not had a branch anywhere in South London for years.

Who has benefited from the publicity attendant on the harassment of Ms. Moore?

In an immediate sense, Ms. Moore herself. The publicity about her martyrdom will not have harmed her career and, no doubt, a wholly justified application to the Criminal Injuries Compensation Board is pending.

The 'anti-racist' cause has certainly benefited.

At the time of these highly publicised incidents, a Crime and Disorder Bill was before Parliament. (It is scheduled to receive the Royal Assent in July.)

'KEEP THE POLICE WHITE'

GETTING out of the Police service on the basis of racial or sexual discrimination has for some time been a path to riches for discontented officers seeking pastures new.

Such cases have received considerable publicity and these may have influenced the decision of one long-serving Asian Police officer, based in north-west London, to finesse a lucrative early retirement payoff from the Metropolitan Police by launching his own 'White racist' hate-mail campaign last Christmas.

To create the impression that he and other ethnic minority officers were victims of "racist persecution" by White officers, he posted messages with slogans such as "Keep the Police White" to himself and to other Asian and Black officers via the Police internal mail system.

The other recipients of this mail were said to have been distressed. An investigation commenced on the presumption that White officers were the culprits, causing further damage to morale.

However, on 16th April a Scotland Yard spokesman announced:

"Police yesterday arrested a serving officer on suspicion of publishing and distributing material which is likely to incite racial hatred and on suspicion of perverting the course of justice".

Permission to prosecute the officer (whose name, for some reason, has not yet been revealed) on these particular charges must be given by the Attorney General, a political office whose holder is a member of the Government.

"If sufficient evidence exists, this officer will be prosecuted", say the authorities. So there is no possibility of this case being swept under the carpet in the interests of good Police/ethnic minority race relations . . . er, is there?

Then, on 13th March, she reported "a man" (his face was covered by a balaclava) who made threatening gestures at her through her kitchen window. When the Police arrived they found "swastikas and National Front logos had been daubed on her door".

GP FAKED 'RACE ATTACK'

ASIAN general practitioner Dr. Mohammad Subbuba faked a 'racist' arson attack on the nursing home that he owned in an attempt to swindle an insurance company of £1 million.

On 12th May Cardiff Crown Court was told that Dr. Subbuba had sprayed racist graffiti on walls to make it appear that "neo-Nazis" of the National Front were responsible — but the hoax was bungled and led to his exposure.

Police noted that the letters 'N' and 'F' were not joined together in the style of that party's logo. They were also, no doubt, aware that no NF branch has existed in South Wales for more than a decade and that arson attacks have never been a part of its modus operandi.

They then discovered that Dr. Subbuba had accumulated bank debts of £1 million due to failed business ventures. This prompted extensive forensic surveys. Charges against this 'victim of racism' soon followed.

'MALICIOUS FABRICATIONS'

MRS Inma Lubenko, a 28-year-old Spanish national resident in Lincoln, sued eight firms at Industrial Tribunals over a 30 month period, claiming "racial victimisation", before she was finally exposed as a crook.

Her career as a professional victim began in 1995 when she won a £2,800 award. Hot for more easy money, she launched actions against other firms — two of which settled out of court to avoid legal costs. Four other firms successfully contested her actions but had to pay their own costs of £2,000 each.

She dropped her eighth claim when the firm called in the Police. The firm's managing director described Lubenko as "a gold-digger who is making a business out of the Tribunal system".

In March, judgement in one of her applications was given by Tribunal Chairman, John McMillan. He declared:

"None of Mrs Lubenko's allegations ring true. We do not believe a single word. Her case is based on malicious fabrication and we are satisfied that it was conducted vexatiously."

The Tribunal employed its rarely-used discretionary power to grant a £2,000 costs order against Mrs Lubenko.

Her husband, Dominic, later told the press that she had the backing of the Commission for Racial Equality and that plans were in hand to mount an appeal.

Whether the funds for this appeal come from the CRE or the Legal Aid Board, it will be the taxpayer who will foot the bill.

JEWES AND MUSLIMS MUST STOP RITUAL SLAUGHTER OR LEAVE U.K.

A GOVERNMENT ministry attempted to aid Muslim fanatics to carry out a series of barbaric acts of ritual animal slaughter at farms all over Britain — and the orgy of cruelty has been hushed-up by the national newspapers “in the interests of community relations”.

This sickening fact emerged following a demonstration carried out in Essex early in April by supporters of Compassion in World Farming, the RSPCA, VIVA and Action Against Live Exports.

The campaigners had come to hear that Muslims were to gather at Macer's Farm near Billericay where they intended to carry out the Halal-style slaughter of sheep as part of their celebration of the Islamic ‘Festival of Eid’.

The Muslims use a specially-designed killing cradle for larger animals such as sheep. The terrified struggling beasts are penned-in, up-ended and, without any prior stunning, have their throats slashed and are left to kick as their life-blood pours from them into a pit.

The Ministry of Agriculture — the sole body empowered to authorise such rituals — issued a statement insisting the event at Macer's Farm had been “cancelled”.

This announcement proved to be a deliberate lie.

Fortunately, the campaigners were not taken in and they kept the farm under surveillance.

‘HATE CRIME’ HOAXES

AS A number of our reports indicate, hoax ‘race attacks’ are becoming an increasingly frequent aspect of life in multi-racial Britain. [See ‘Victims of Racism’ on page 6.]

The mass media, Establishment political parties and axe-grinding ethnic minority organisations seem, thus far, to be very willing to accept at face value — and publicise — all alleged instances of “White racist violence”.

These elements clearly believe that opponents of multi-racialism are to be smeared and criminalised at every opportunity — and are too ‘politically correct’ to allow themselves to doubt for one moment allegations coming from ethnic minority ‘victims’. That would be Racist Thought-Crime!

There are signs, however, that the Police are making use of the phenomenon of these

In the middle of the night prior to the festival a lorry from a Colchester livestock supplier delivered the sheep and then, at around 7.30am, about 80 Muslims arrived to begin the ritual.

On hearing horrible noises from within, the campaigners brushed aside the farmer's wife and a few unhappy constables and stormed into the farm. The Muslims fled.

Some — but, sadly, not all — the wretched animals were saved by this prompt action.

The invasion of the farm was filmed by several TV news crews and the event was featured in the early-evening news bulletins of all the major channels.

In this coverage, a middle-aged English countrywoman, dressed in a green Barbour jacket and sounding like Mrs Antrobus in The Archers was seen and heard shouting:

Filthy, rotten Pakistanis! Get back to Pakistan!”

One of her Left Wing animal-loving colleagues shouted at her reproachfully: “That's racist!”

To which she replied: Of course it's racist! I AM a racist!”

The item was dropped from all the main evening newscasts, and none of the national newspapers carried any report of the affair the following day — though ‘Peter Simple’ commented on the news blackout in the Daily Telegraph on 10th April.

CHOICE says: This insane situation has been brought about by the present law governing animal slaughter. This insists that — as a general rule — animals to be slaughtered must be despatched in the most humane way possible.

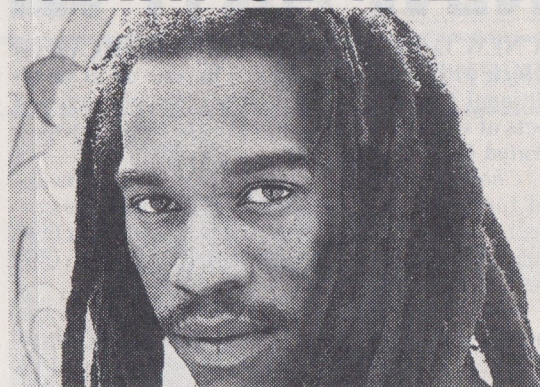

Organised Jewry, as a result of its immense money and media power, has been able to win for itself — and for the Muslims riding on its coat-tails — an exemption from this anti-cruelty law.

The Jewish method of slaughter — Shechita — differs very little from that employed by the Muslims. The animals are not pre-stunned. They are killed by having their throats slashed and being allowed to bleed to death hanging upside-down.

This exemption is an outrage which must be ended at once. There is no justification whatever for allowing any section of the population — let alone alien incomers — to be exempt from laws which apply to the majority whose country this is.

If the Jews and the Muslims don't like our laws, then our laws should not be warded to suit them, no

HERITAGE THEFT

INTRODUCING Benjamin Zephaniah.

He is one of the Government's appointees to the newly-created National Advisory Committee on Creative and Cultural Education.

According to Education Minister David Blunkett this committee includes “leading figures from education, business, science and the arts”. Mr. Zephaniah is described as “a poet”.

He left school at 14. His education owes more to attendance at Borstal institutions than poetry tutorials amidst the dreaming spires. His university? Winson Green Prison, Birmingham.

Referring to Mr. Zephaniah's anticipated special contribution to the work of the committee, Minister Blunkett waffled:

“In the workforce of the future, communications skills will also be vital”.

“Communication” in this context must surely mean the ability to make oneself understood. How then can Mr. Zephaniah assist?

Perhaps some of his published work would give us a clue. One of the lines in his ‘poem’ De Black Politics of Today reads:

“Is dat me a sey, de ting nar gu away”.

Got that? No?

Then an extract from his ‘poem’ De Day I met Lady Di may help:

“De day I met Lady Di / I was happy. No. I tell a lie / I had a pain in my belly? / I would not fart near royalty.”

Lovely.

(Poetry-lovers will have noted the cunning felicity of the rhyming scheme “happy”, “belly” and “royalty”.)

The purpose of Zephaniah's appointment is two-fold:

1. To ingratiate the Labour Government with the Afro-Caribbean community.

(Educated Black people with cultivated artistic sensibilities will, no doubt, perceive the appoint-

The Ministry of Agriculture — the whole body empowered to authorise such rituals — issued a statement insisting the event at Macer's Farm had been "cancelled".

This announcement proved to be a deliberate lie.

Fortunately, the campaigners were not taken in and they kept the farm under surveillance.

'HATE CRIME' HOAXES

AS A number of our reports indicate, hoax 'race attacks' are becoming an increasingly frequent aspect of life in multi-racial Britain. [See 'Victims of Racism' on page 6.]

The mass media, Establishment political parties and axe-grinding ethnic minority organisations seem, thus far, to be very willing to accept at face value — and publicise — all alleged instances of "White racist violence".

These elements clearly believe that opponents of multi-racialism are to be smeared and criminalised at every opportunity — and are too 'politically correct' to allow themselves to doubt for one moment allegations coming from ethnic minority 'victims'. That would be Racist Thought-Crime!

There are signs, however, that the Police are waking up to the phenomenon of 'hate-crime' hoaxes as perpetrated by ethnic minority individuals or groups — and by left-wing and Zionist militants.

The multi-racial society in the United States has existed for longer than that which has been foisted on our country, and so US law-enforcement agencies are well experienced in detecting instances of the phenomenon.

If our Police service is to get up to speed in dealing with this aspect of multi-racial criminality — which has huge political, legal and public order implications — they would do well to invest in abundant supplies of Crying Wolf - Hate Crime Hoaxes in America by the respected and politically unaligned civil liberties researcher Laird Wilcox.

This book documents hundreds of recent court cases in which the subjects were convicted of fabricating — or perpetrating as agents provocateurs (i.e. without victims' knowledge or consent) racist daubings, death-threats, assaults and arson attacks.

The motive of some hoaxers was financial gain (insurance swindles) but almost all pleaded in mitigation "a desire to alert the public to White racism and/or anti-semitism".

The book costs $25 post paid and may be obtained from:

Laird Wilcox Editorial Research Services,
PO Box 2047, Olathe, Kansas 66061, USA.
Tel/Fax: 1-913-829-0609

To which she replied: Of course it's racist! I AM a racist!"

The item was dropped from all the main evening newscasts, and none of the national newspapers carried any report of the affair the following day — though 'Peter Simple' commented on the news blackout in the Daily Telegraph on 10th April.

CHOICE says: This insane situation has been brought about by the present law governing animal slaughter. This insists that — as a general rule — animals to be slaughtered must be despatched in the most humane way possible.

Organised Jewry, as a result of its immense money and media power, has been able to win for itself — and for the Muslims riding on its coat-tails — an exemption from this anti-cruelty law.

The Jewish method of slaughter — Shechita — differs very little from that employed by the Muslims. The animals are not pre-stunned. They are killed by having their throats slashed and being allowed to bleed to death hanging upside-down.

This exemption is an outrage which must be ended at once. There is no justification whatever for allowing any section of the population — let alone alien incomers — to be exempt from laws which apply to the majority whose country this is.

If the Jews and the Muslims don't like our laws, then our laws should not be warped to suit them, no matter how much cash they are able to give to the main political parties or to the "private offices" of party leaders. They should leave England forthwith and live where their cruelty is permitted.

PRESS CUTTINGS

'CHOICE' welcomes press cuttings from readers, but please mark them with the name of the paper and the date of publication. Make no other mark. Do not staple/glue unconnected items together. Be selective with what you send. We cannot cope with large quantities of unsorted material. Thank you.

BRAVO, BRIGITTE BARDOT!

FRENCH former film star Brigitte Bardot has been fined thousands of pounds by a French court in January on a charge of "inciting racial hatred".

Mlle. Bardot, 63, now a campaigner against cruelty to animals, wrote an article in Present, the Front National's daily newspaper, attacking the Islamic method of ritual animal slaughter.

She described Muslims as "manic throat-cutters" and, in a reference to the horrific massacres being perpetrated by Muslim fundamentalists in Algeria, she declared:

"They cut the throats of women and children, our monks, our officials. They will cut our throats one day — and it will serve us right."

To further to Mr. Zephaniah's anticipated special contribution to the work of the committee, Minister Blunkett waffled:

"In the workforce of the future, communications skills will also be vital".

"Communication" in this context must surely mean the ability to make oneself understood. How then can Mr. Zephaniah assist?

Perhaps some of his published work would give us a clue. One of the lines in his 'poem' De Black Politics of Today reads:

"Is dat me a sey, de ting nar gu away".

Got that? No?

Then an extract from his 'poem' De Day I met Lady Di may help:

"De day I met Lady Di / I was happy. No. I tell a lie / I had a pain in my belly? / I would not fart near royalty."

Lovely.

(Poetry-lovers will have noted the cunning felicity of the rhyming scheme "happy", "belly" and "royalty".)

The purpose of Zephaniah's appointment is twofold:

1. To ingratiate the Labour Government with the Afro-Caribbean community.

(Educated Black people with cultivated artistic sensibilities will, no doubt, perceive the appointment as both patronising and insulting.)

2. To continue the on-going process of providing Afro-Caribbean school children with role models to boost their self-esteem and thereby reduce anti-social tendencies.

We can see how the first objective might be achieved.

But what sort of a role-model for alienated Black youngsters is a former jail-bird who churns out 'verse' such as Dis Policeman is Kicking Me to Death?

And what kind of message is all this going to convey to White school children?

This appointment is an example of the way in which our White children are victimised by the crime of Heritage Theft.

WELL DONE JOYCE CHURCH

CHOICE extends its heartiest congratulations to one of its longstanding supporters, Miss Joyce Church, of Haslemere, who in March was awarded the British Legion 'For Merit' badge.

This was bestowed on Miss Church, a retired nanny, for her tireless work over 25 years not only in assisting the Legion's annual Poppy Appeal, but in recruiting new collectors.

Her award was presented by General Sir Edward Burgess, President of Surrey British Legion.

Miss Church gives a fine example of practical patriotism, and we are proud to say that in this regard she is typical of many of our supporters.

NEW ANTI-WHITE RACE LAW

A NEW law is set to come into force this August which will empower judges to impose up to an additional two years in jail on persons convicted of acts of violence which are proved to have been motivated by 'racial hatred'.

Choice does not advocate violence as a means of furthering any cause, however good and correct the cause may be. On the contrary, we believe that violence — except in self-defence — can only be counter-productive.

We would not express any opposition to this new law if we felt that it would be imposed impartially, since this would lead to numerous Black and Asian thugs — whose attacks on White people and members of other ethnic groups are clearly motivated by racial hatred — being put behind bars along with White thugs.

But we oppose this new law because we are convinced that it will NOT be imposed impartially.

We are convinced that it is just another of a long series of punitive devices aimed at White people who are being driven mad by the hellish nightmare of multi-racialism and who do not have available to them (thanks to other 'anti-racist' laws) either the education or the financial and intellectual means to express their grievances and achieve redress through the courts and political action.

This applies in particular to working class Britons who live in inner city areas and on large housing estates. It is easy for the better-educated and more well-off members of our society to sneer at "working class yobbos" who seem only to be able to communicate their existence by acts of violence.

But it is the working class section of the British nation which has had to bear the brunt of the effects of mass Coloured Immigration.

It is their neighbourhoods, their workplaces and their schools which have become swamped and taken over to such an extent that they feel aliens in their own native land and, in the face of the scoffing and sneering of the mass media and officialdom, alienated and angry.

The better off have been able to engage in 'White Flight' to leafy suburbs and rural locations where they can (for the moment) escape the horrors of the multi-racial society and from their (temporary) places of safety, condemn the "mindless racial violence" of their less fortunate fellow-countrymen.

In addition to this factor of hypocrisy and smugness on the part of the White middle and upper grammes, statements in Parliament, reports from lobbying organisations and the like — have been unanimous in asserting that racial violence is exclusively a White crime.

The motive behind this false assertion is that Establishment race-mixers rightly see that White opposition to their fantasies is the greatest threat to the construction of a multi-racial society since White Britons constitute the "host community" and (for the moment) are the largest single ethnic group in the population.

The fact that the imposition of a multi-racial society has no democratic legitimacy since at no point have the British people ever given — or been asked to give — a mandate for it, is irrelevant to the multi-racialist champions of "democracy and fairness".

So far as they are concerned, White opposition to the fait accompli must be criminalised and crushed. Patriotism and ethnic pride (on the part of native Britons) must be stigmatised as anachronistic and anti-social.

Thus when a gang of White yobbos goes "Paki-bashing", that is racial violence, and so it is — and we condemn it.

But when a gang of Black yobbos goes out mugging, that is simply "a poverty-stricken minority ethnic group engaging in robbery, not racial violence" — regardless of the fact, attested by several Metropolitan Police Commissioners — that the vast majority of the victims the muggers select are White — often defenceless and poor elderly people.

Furthermore, the growing number of avowedly racist Asian gang attacks on Whites — at Tower Hamlets and Kings Cross (London), Luton, Bradford and Blackburn — and gang battles between Asian ethnic groups at Southall and Slough, are played-down by the national media since such incidents contradict the stock multi-racialist presentation of Asians as "peaceful, meek, hard-working, victims of racist violence".

So with all these facts in mind we have no hesitation in opposing the new law. It will be used to grant aliens a special legal status and protection not afforded to White people.

It will be one more demonstration of the way in which White Britons are being made second-class citizens in their own country and this will have the undoubted long-term effect of stirring up more racial hatred and resentment.

The only comfort we can take from this development is that the impending law is the product

CHOICE ORDER FORM

To: CHOICE, 31 Eastvale, Second Avenue, Acton Vale, London W3 7RU

Please send me supplies in the quantities indicated of back-issues of CHOICE, and/or leaflets in the CHOICE 'Fight-Back' and/or ENGLISH SOLIDARITY ranges:

Back-issues of
CHOICE NEWSPAPER:

QUANTITIES
REQUIRED

- | | | |
|-----------|----------------------------------|-------|
| Issue 1. | A MULTI-COLOURED SOCIETY?* | |
| Issue 2. | LET THE PEOPLE DECIDE | |
| Issue 3. | WHAT THE PEOPLE SAY | |
| Issue 4. | A MULTI-COLOURED BRITAIN?* | |
| Issue 5. | REPATRIATION OR DISASTER* | |
| Issue 6. | INVASION Courtesy of Parliament* | |
| Issue 7. | ALL GUILTY, MY LORD | |
| Issue 8. | MULTI-RACIAL MADNESS | |
| Issue 9. | RESIST ANTI-WHITE REVOLUTION | |
| Issue 10. | RACE IS EVERYTHING* | |
| Issue 11. | NOT BLOODY LIKELY | |
| Issue 12. | THIS IS WAR, MAN | |
| Issue 13. | WHITE PATRIOTISM RULES O.K.* | |
| Issue 14. | PUTTING OUT THE WHITES* | |
| Issue 15. | FOR RACE AND NATION | |
| Issue 16. | PRICE OF PATRIOTISM | |
| Issue 17. | U.N. BEHIND REFUGEE INFLUX | |
| Issue 18. | THE CRUCIAL BATTLE | |
| Issue 19. | LET THEIR PEOPLE GO | |
| Issue 20. | BRITAIN UP IN ARMS | |
| Issue 21. | TIME TO BLOW THE WHISTLE | |
| Issue 22. | THE ENORMITY OF IT ALL | |
| Issue 23. | WE WANT TO BE FREE! | |
| Issue 24. | MULTI-RACIALISM HAS FAILED | |
| Issue 25. | TREASON by Dither & Cowardice | |
| Issue 26. | ONE BETRAYAL TOO FAR | |
| Issue 27. | NO MANDATE for Multi-Racialism | |
| Issue 28. | 'ENGAGE ENEMY MORE CLOSELY!' | |
| Issue 29. | THEY'RE 'HOMEWARD BOUND!' | |
| Issue 30. | 'OPEN THE FLOODGATES WIDER!' | |
| Issue 31. | WE MUST CHOOSE NOW | |
| Issue 32. | TONY BLAIR'S SUICIDE NOTE | |

* = facsimile of original edition.

Choice 'FIGHT-BACK' Leaflets:

- | | | |
|----|-------------------------|-------|
| 1. | Human Rights for Whites | |
| 2. | Choice facing all of us | |

achieve redress through the courts and political action.

This applies in particular to working class Britons who live in inner city areas and on large housing estates. It is easy for the better-educated and more well-off members of our society to sneer at "working class yobbos" who seem only to be able to communicate their existence by acts of violence.

But it is the working class section of the British nation which has had to bear the brunt of the effects of mass Coloured Immigration.

It is their neighbourhoods, their workplaces and their schools which have become swamped and taken over to such an extent that they feel aliens in their own native land and, in the face of the scoffing and sneering of the mass media and officialdom, alienated and angry.

The better off have been able to engage in 'White Flight' to leafy suburbs and rural locations where they can (for the moment) escape the horrors of the multi-racial society and from their (temporary) places of safety, condemn the "mindless racial violence" of their less fortunate fellow-countrymen.

In addition to this factor of hypocrisy and smugness on the part of the White middle and upper classes, the application of this new law will also become warped by considerations of 'political correctness'.

All the pronouncements on this topic emanating from 'Establishment' sources which we have ever encountered — academic sociological commentaries, articles in the press, TV and radio programming, that is simply "a poverty-stricken minority ethnic group engaging in robbery, not racial violence" — regardless of the fact, attested by several Metropolitan Police Commissioners — that the vast majority of the victims the muggers select are White — often defenceless and poor elderly people.

Furthermore, the growing number of avowedly racist Asian gang attacks on Whites — at Tower Hamlets and Kings Cross (London), Luton, Bradford and Blackburn — and gang battles between Asian ethnic groups at Southall and Slough, are played-down by the national media since such incidents contradict the stock multi-racialist presentation of Asians as "peaceful, meek, hard-working, victims of racist violence".

So with all these facts in mind we have no hesitation in opposing the new law. It will be used to grant aliens a special legal status and protection not afforded to White people.

It will be one more demonstration of the way in which White Britons are being made second-class citizens in their own country and this will have the undoubted long-term effect of stirring up more racial hatred and resentment.

The only comfort we can take from this development is that the impending law is the product of pessimism, defeatism and illogicality on the part of the race-mixers.

Do they really think a cohesive society can be built on a basis that one category of citizen, by virtue of its race, must be made less equal than other recently-arrived (minority) ethnic groups? This, surely, is Apartheid in reverse!

"BURN THESE CHILDREN'S BOOKS" SAY ALIEN 'PC' CRANKS

'ANTI-RACIST' cranks have lined up more children's books for destruction on the 'politically correct' bonfire.

How many parents are aware that the much-loved Barbar the Elephant stories are not only "species-ist" — and therefore "racist" — but also "sexist"?

Well they are, according to Angela Aujila, a post-graduate student attached to the Multiculturalism faculty at Simon Fraser University in Canada.

In a thesis on the subject entitled Should We Burn Barbar? she states that King Barbar and his wife, Queen Celeste, display "Eurocentrism" by wearing Western clothes.

Stories about their adventures are "sexist" since Celeste is portrayed as having a "weak personality" — and she always wears a dress, never trousers!

King Barbar is an "imperialist" who displays signs of "internalised racism" towards another species, members of the Rhino kingdom. Says Ms. Aujila:

"The rhinos are portrayed as ignorant, gruff, thick-headed and prone to violence. This symbolises Eurocentric conceptions of ignorant uncivilised African savages."

(No doubt members of the charming Hutu and Tutsi tribes of Rwanda will have found themselves particularly insulted by this vile slur!)

Meanwhile, an 'anti-racism' group in Wandsworth, South London, expressed concern in March about a children's book entitled A Crow in Borrowed Feathers, after receiving a complaint from "a local [sic] mother", one Salama Haruna.

She declared that the book, a collection of Aesop's Fables, depicted the crow as "being made to feel ugly and inferior as a result of his blackness".

In a statement to the Wandsworth Borough News a spokesperson for the National Working Group Against Racism, Nandimi Mane (another "local") stated:

"Clearly, the book is using very racist imagery and it is giving very damaging and dangerous messages to children."

Issue 14. PUTTING OUT THE WHITES

Issue 15. FOR RACE AND NATION

Issue 16. PRICE OF PATRIOTISM

Issue 17. U.N. BEHIND REFUGEE INFLUX

Issue 18. THE CRUCIAL BATTLE

Issue 19. LET THEIR PEOPLE GO

Issue 20. BRITAIN UP IN ARMS

Issue 21. TIME TO BLOW THE WHISTLE

Issue 22. THE ENORMITY OF IT ALL

Issue 23. WE WANT TO BE FREE!

Issue 24. MULTI-RACIALISM HAS FAILED

Issue 25. TREASON by Dither & Cowardice

Issue 26. ONE BETRAYAL TOO FAR

Issue 27. NO MANDATE for Multi-Racialism

Issue 28. 'ENGAGE ENEMY MORE CLOSELY!'

Issue 29. THEY'RE 'HOMEWARD BOUND!'

Issue 30. 'OPEN THE FLOODGATES WIDER!'

Issue 31. WE MUST CHOOSE NOW

Issue 32. TONY BLAIR'S SUICIDE NOTE

* = facsimile of original edition.

Choice 'FIGHT-BACK'

Leaflets:

1. Human Rights for Whites
2. Choice facing all of us
3. Stop N.U.J. Censorship
4. The Religion Racket
5. Rochdale's Muslim Problem
6. Whose Right to Work?
7. End Alien Political Blackmail
8. Stop Tearing Britain Apart
9. Nice Work - if You Can Get It
10. Why Were We Never Asked?
11. Move Right Down the Bus - PLEASE!
12. CHANGE - For Goodness Sake

ENGLISH SOLIDARITY

Leaflets:

1. Who's for Repatriation?
2. Get the Jewish 'One-Worlder' Cranks Off Our Backs
3. Future Outlook Bright
4. A New Yellow Peril
5. Multi-Racialism Mongrelises

Order from:

(Please use BLOCK CAPITALS)

NAME: _____

ADDRESS: _____

Post Code _____

C32 - 6/98